Dec 11th	2:00 pm - 6:00 pm	Sandra Hanson activity at the CPS - intellectual trajectory in a central country	The Center for Social Research proposes as activity for Professor Sandra Hudson's visit an interview with the participation of the director of the CPS (prof. Christiane Jalles), the vice-director (prof. João Dulci) and two selected PPGCSO students at a more advanced stage of research. The idea is to discuss the professor's intellectual career, focusing on her main works, with the main thread being the search for space and a voice for a researcher in a country where the scientific field is well-established and often sets a model for Brazil. The aim is to discuss research preparation, methodological and practical challenges, the	CPS (Applied social research) Profs Christiane Jalles and João Dulci	Auditorium/CPS organization of results and forms of dissemination. The interview will be recorded as part of the CPS and PPGCSO collection, edited and made available to the public. If authorized, the interview will be translated into Portuguese and submitted to a scientific journal, in a model of co-authorship between the participants and professor Sandra Hudson.
